Re: Notice of Ex Parte Presentation – CG Docket No. 04-208, CC Docket No. 98-170

Dear Ms. Dortch:

This letter is to advise you that on October 18, 2005, Steven Tugentman, Associate General Counsel Sales, Marketing & Consumer Law and I, on behalf of Verizon Wireless, met with Monica Desai, Jay Keithley, Gene Fullano, and Richard Smith of the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau to discuss positions that Verizon Wireless has taken in comments on the Commission's Second Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking ("Second FNPRM") in the captioned dockets.

In our discussion, we discussed the attached presentation, which demonstrates that Verizon Wireless discloses, in a clear and conspicuous manner, the nature and amount of taxes, surcharges, and other fees. We detailed Verizon Wireless' practices to illustrate why additional truth-in-billing rules are not necessary. If, however, the Commission considers imposing additional truth-in-billing rules on wireless carriers, we argued that the requirements set forth in the Assurance of Voluntary Compliance ("AVC") between the major wireless carriers and several state attorneys general serve as an appropriate model.

We noted that analysis of our complaint data reveals that very few of our customers complain about line-tem charges and point-of-sale disclosures, and although we have not attempted to correlate the overall decline in complaints with our implementation of the AVC nationwide, our "churn" rates during this time decreased. We also discussed the systems limitations on providing customers an estimate of the first bill before they sign a contract, which is based on the need for the customer to activate service in the billing system before the point of sale system can establish an estimate of the taxes and surcharges that will apply.

Ms. Dortch
October 18, 2005

Finally, we stated that Verizon Wireless already abides by the guidelines set forth in the Joint FCC/FTC Policy Statement For the Advertising of Dial-Around and Other Long-Distance Services to Consumers, Policy Statement, 15 FCC Rcd 8654 (2000), and it is therefore unnecessary to apply these guidelines to the wireless industry.

Consistent with the Commission's rules on ex parte communications, this letter is being filed electronically in the captioned dockets. Please let me know if there are any questions related to this filing.

Very truly yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Charon Phillips". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Charon" and the last name "Phillips" clearly distinguishable.

Notice of Introduction of Administrative Charge

Verizon Wireless will begin assessing an Administrative Charge of 40¢ per line per month on October 1, 2005.

Verizon Wireless Important Rate Increases

Activation Fee Charges as of October 2, 2005

Activation fee/line: $35, except $25 for secondary Family SharePlan® lines with 2-year agreement.

Notice of Introduction of Administrative Charge

Verizon Wireless will begin assessing an Administrative Charge of 40¢ per line per month on October 1, 2005. This charge will help defray certain costs we incur, currently including:

- (i) fees and assessments on network facilities and services;
- (ii) charges we, or our agents, pay local telephone companies for delivering calls from our customers to their customers; and
- (iii) certain costs and charges associated with proceedings related to new cell site construction.

The sum of Verizon Wireless' Regulatory Charge (5¢ per line per month) and Administrative Charge will still be the lowest of such charges among national wireless carriers.

The Administrative Charge, and what's included, is subject to change from time to time. Please note that this is a Verizon Wireless charge, not a tax that we are required to collect from you. For more information about this charge, visit www.verizonwireless.com or call 1-888-684-1888.

Customer Agreement Terms And Conditions

Charges And Fees We Set

→ You agree to pay all access, usage, and other charges and fees we bill you or that the user of your wireless phone accepted, even if you weren't the user of your wireless phone and didn't authorize its use. These include Federal Universal Service Charges and Regulatory Charges, and may include other charges also related to our governmental costs. We set these charges. They aren't taxes, aren't required by law, are kept by us in whole or in part, and are subject to change. You may have to pay fees to begin service or reconnect suspended service. Usage charges may vary depending on where, when, and how you call. You have a home airtime rate and coverage area and a local calling area (which may be different). When you call from inside a local calling area to somewhere outside of it, or call from anywhere outside a local calling area, there may be toll, regional calling, or long distance charges in addition to airtime. (We provide or select the long distance service for calls on our network.) When you make a call inside your local calling area that uses a local phone company's lines (for example, a call to a typical home phone number), we may charge landline or connection fees. We charge airtime for most calls, including toll-free and operator-assisted calls. Additional features and services such as operator or directory assistance, call display, calling card use, call forwarding, data calls, automatic call delivery voice mail, text messaging, and wireless Internet access, may have additional charges. Features such as Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, or 3-Way Calling involve multiple calls and multiple charges.

Taxes, Fees, And Surcharges We Don't Set

→ You agree to pay all taxes, fees, and surcharges set by the government. We may not always give advance notice of changes to these items. If you're tax-exempt you must give us your exemption certificates and pay for any filings we make.

Roaming And Roaming Charges

You're "roaming" whenever you make or receive a call using a transmission site outside your home airtime rate and coverage area, or using another company's transmission site. Your wireless phone may sometimes connect to and roam on another company's network even when you're within your home airtime rate and coverage area or local calling area. There may be extra charges (including charges for long distance, tolls, or calls that don't connect) and higher rates for roaming calls, depending on our calling plan.

Your Bill

→ Your bill is our notice of the fees, charges and other important information. We'll read everything in your bill. We bill usage for calls made or received. We bill some other charges in advance. You can see a detailed bill online. We'll also send you a statement without call detail (or a detailed bill if you request one, subject to any applicable fee). We may charge a fee for bill reprints. If you choose internet billing (where available), you waive any right to paper bills or notices.

How We Calculate Your Bill

Your bill reflects the fees and charges in effect under your calling plan at the time they're incurred. You can dispute your bill, but only within 180 days of receiving it. You must still pay any disputed charges until the dispute is resolved. Charges may vary depending on where your wireless phone is when a call starts. If a charge depends on an amount of time used, we'll round up any fraction of a minute to the next full minute. Time starts when you first press SEND or the call connects to a network on outgoing calls, and when the call connects to a network (which may be before it rings) on incoming calls. Time may end several seconds after you press END or the call otherwise disconnects. For calls made on our network, we only bill for calls that connect (which

Toll, Regional Calling And Wireless Long Distance

Depending on your calling plan, toll, regional calling and long distance charges may apply in addition to home airtime charges. You may incur toll, regional calling, or long distance charges when you are in a wireless local calling area and place a call to a number outside this area. Your local calling area is not the same as your home airtime rate and coverage area, and may be smaller. As with your home phone, your local calling area is defined by a group of local phone exchanges (the area code plus the first three digits of a phone number). As with all wireless calls, these charges are based on where you start the call and don't change even if you move during the call.

Verizon Wireless' Surcharges

Your bill will include charges to recover or help defray costs of taxes and of governmental surcharges and fees imposed on us, and costs associated with government regulations and mandates on our business. These charges include a Regulatory Charge, which helps defray costs of various mandates, and a Federal Universal Service Charge to recover costs imposed on us by the government to support universal service. These charges are Verizon Wireless charges, not taxes, and are subject to change.

Taxes, Governmental Surcharges And Fees

Your bill will include sales, excise and other taxes and governmental surcharges and fees that we are required by law to bill to customers. These taxes, surcharges and fees may change from time to time without notice. These charges may be based on the rates applicable to the residential street address or the primary business street address you provided to us. This address will be considered the "place of primary use," provided it is within our licensed service area.

About Consumer Complaints

- Minimizing consumer complaints is a matter of good business practice.
- CTIA and the wireless industry have discussed with state commissions the types of concerns that states heard from wireless consumers.
- The wireless industry voluntarily established procedures for expediting consumer complaints from all state commissions.
- Each state now has designated contacts for each of the major wireless carriers. Carriers are responding to consumers who have contacted the state commissions with questions or complaints. Many states are pleased with this new, responsive process.

Incentives to Retain Customers

- Wireless carriers have strong incentives to treat their customers well and offer a broad range of products and services to meet their needs:
 - Customers are expensive to acquire—wireless carriers spend anywhere from $350 to $475 to acquire a new customer. (J.D. Power and Associates)
 - Customers have numerous competitive choices.
 - Carriers highly value their reputations and brands.
 - Carriers work to minimize complaints—every complaint is costly to address and, more importantly, means a customer is unhappy.
